Macmillan Selected To Succeed Eden

Arrested After Shooting His Wife's Parents

BENTON, Ill. (U.P.) — Police today held Gerald Eckles, 19, on charges of assault with intent to murder his wife's parents following an argument over moving to hicago.

Eckles was arrested Wednesday hours after the shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Smith in their home three miles west of Antioch. Both were hit by .22 caliber bullets in the chest and were in critical condition at a Waukegan Hospital.

Sheriff Paul Collins of Franklin County said Eckles admitted the shooting. Eckles and his 15-year-old wife, Virginia, had been living with the Smiths, Collins said.

Eckles told Collins he fired on the two after an argument about his wishes to move to Chicago. He said his wife, who is expecting a child, did not want to make the change.

Letterhead of Shawnee Hills Group Advertises Area

THE LETTERHEAD for the Shawnee Hills Recreation association is out and a look at it reveals it is quite a piece of advertising in itself.

The writing side is nearly framed in information and the back side contains a map with illustrations of what one may find in the realms of scenery, history and recreation in the area.

You surely know by this time that this association, composed of the counties of Saline, Gallatin, Hardin, Pope, Massac and Johnson is devoted to the promotion of this area as a tourist attraction. Lots of work has to be done but this group is working.

Across the bottom of the letterhead are these words:

"To promote tourist interest in hiking, fishing, game hunting, camping, fossil hunting, scenic trails, cliff climbing, Indian relics, cave exploring, historical sites, buildings and forts." The tourist is urged to "spend a day, week or month enjoying the world's' most varied outdoor recreation area."

Across the top is a general illustration and down the left side are listed 63 places of interest. Down the right side are the directors and officers of the association.

You won't see LaFayette at Shawneetown or George Rogers Clark at Fort Massac but one interested in the history of the area most certainly can see where they've been.

The back of the letterhead has more than a score of illustrations, all pertaining to the area, drawn by Mrs. Betty Head of Shawneetown.

George Scherrer of Shawneetown is the association president.

Ex-Chancellor Asked to Form British Gov't

Son of American Mother Given Post By Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (U.P.) — Harold Macmillan was named prime minister to succeed Sir Anthony Eden today.

Macmillan, 62-year-old former chancellor of the exchequer and favorite of right-wing Conservatives, was asked to form a new government by Queen Elizabeth II during a visit to Buckingham Palace this afternoon.

Thus, just about 18 hours after Eden stepped down for reasons of health, the dapper son of an American mother was given the job of restoring Britain's prestige and economic stability after the Suez debacle. His rise to political prominence came only after World War II.

The jaunty Macmillan was picked over the other favorite contender for the job, R. A. (Rab) Butler, 53, lord privy seal and majority leader of the House of Comomns. Right Wing Conservatives had opposed Butler on grounds he was "soft" in dealing with Egypt over the Suez crisis.

Brief Palace Announcement

Macmillan rode to Buckingham Palace at 2 p. m. (8 a. m. CST) to receive the mandate from the Queen. During the trip he showed his usual lack of formality—he sat up front with his chauffeur.

The audience lasted 20 minutes, and a few moments later the palace announced briefly:

"The Queen received the Right Honorable Harold Macmillan M. P., in audience this afternoon and offered him the post of prime minister and first lord of the treasury.

"Mr. Macmillan accepted Her Majesty's' offer and kissed hands upon his appointment."

The decision to name a prime minister belongs to the Queen alone. But usually she picks a man who can muster a majority of the House of Commons.

In this case, with the Conservative holding a 58-seat edge in the House, she chose Macmillan because he seemed able to rally fellow party members behind his policies.

Macmillan's appointment was a

Standard Boosts Gasoline Prices

CHICAGO (U.P.) — Standard Oil of Indiana is boosting its gasoline prices a penny a gallon in 15 states.

Dwight F. Benton, sales vice president, said Wednesday the hike stems from recent crude oil price advances.

The increase applies to motor gasoline, kerosene, domestic heating oils and related products sold by the company in Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Bureau of Prisons Chief to Inspect Proposed Sites

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Rep. Kenneth Gray (D-Ill) announced Wednesday night that the director of federal prisons will inspect proposed sites for a new penitentiary in southern Illinois this month or next.

Gray said 20 sites in Illinois' 25th district have been submitted for inspection by Prison Director James V. Bennett.

The Bureau of Prisons plans to construct a new maximum security prison and requested proposals from southwestern Illinois, western Kentucky, northwestern Tennessee and eastern Missouri.

Gray said Bennett informed him the inspection trip will be made in late January or early February. He said a decision is expected shortly after the inspection.

Gray, who will accompany Bennett on the Illinois inspection tour, said his district accounted for a majority of the proposals.

Revenue Service Lists Days for Aiding Taxpayers

The Springfield district of the Internal Revenue Service has completed plans to assist taxpayers in filing their 1956 income tax returns, District Director H. J. White stated today.

Included in this district are 16 locations for assisting taxpayers, including Harrisburg. At these locations Internal Revenue personnel will be specially assigned to furnish 1956 tax forms, answer tax questions and answer telephone inquiries.

Certain days have been set aside at the various locations for assistance and the Harrisburg dates are these: Jan. 14, 18, 25, 28, 30 and 31; Feb. 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 25; March 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29; April 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

Dates at the McLeansboro location are Jan. 21 and 28, Feb. 4, 11, 14, 15, 18 and 25; March 4, 11, 18 and 25; April 1, 8, 9, 10 and 15.

Director White urged taxpayers needing assistance to call on their local offices on the designated days.

"We are stressing the 'self-help' method," Director White stated, "because experience has proven that this method is very efficient and enables the service to assist the greatest number of taxpayers."

He also said many questions could be handled by telephone, thus saving the taxpayer the inconvenience of traveling to the revenue office and waiting in line.

Mother of 11 Children Gives Birth to Triplets

ERIE, Pa. (U.P.) — A 38-year-old Negro mother of 11 children who gave birth to triplet girls, said today "we'll make out the best we can" on her husband's $65-a-week salary.

Mrs. Ida Burnett of Albion, Pa., wife of a state highways department employe, and her daughters were reported "in wonderful condition" at St. Vincent's Hospital, following the triple birth Wednesday.

"It's wonderful that they are girls," Mrs. Burnett said. "We have seven boys and four girls at home and the triplets now even the score."

Doubt Youth's Story of Slaying In Wayne County

FAIRFIELD, Ill. —A 17-year-old boy's story that he murdered a man last September appeared doubtful today after police searched an area in northeastern Wayne county for the second time without finding the man's body.

Another 17-year-old youth, who the boy said was with him at the time of the killing, was questioned for several hours Wednesday by Wayne County Sheriff Elmo Mugrage. The youth denied any knowledge of the killing and was released.

Glenn Eldon Totten, the boy who told the story of the killing, is to be questioned again today by officials at Elgin State hospital, where he is a patient. He may be given a lie detector test, Sheriff Mugrage said.

Totten told hospital officials Tuesday that he shot and killed an unidentified hitchhiker about 1 a. m. Sept. 30 in a heavily wooded area in bottom land near the Little Wabash river. He gave officials detailed instructions where the body could be found.

Hospital officials relayed the story to Sheriff Mugrage and the sheriff and four other men searched the area for three hours Tuesday night without finding a body. The boy said he shot the man with a .22 caliber pistol about two or three miles from his home near Mt. Erie, which is about 15 miles northeast of here.

Wednesday morning Sheriff Mugrage questioned Totten, whom he knows, by telephone. At one point the sheriff asked Totten if his story was a lie.

"If you don't believe me, forget about it," Totten replied.

After the telephone conversation, Sheriff Mugrage and five other men returned to the area and searched for four more hours. They gave up at 3 p. m. after failing to find the body or a brown, zippered bag the boy said he threw into a clump of bushes.

Totten said Tuesday he and his companion picked up the hitchhiker and agreed to drive him to St. Louis. However, he said he told the man he wanted to stop at his home in Mt. Erie first to get some money. He said it was when they were in the Mt. Erie area that he shot the man in the back of the head as the man walked away from him.

The second youth, picked up Wednesday morning in Wayne county, told Mugrage he knew Totten and had been out with him two or three times but that he wasn't with him the night of Sept. 30.

Totten was committed to St. Charles state school for boys in November for reckless driving while on probation for stealing a jeep. Totten was transferred to the state hospital after he complained of being ill.

Mugrage said late Wednesday he has no plans for asking that the boy be returned to Wayne county for further search.

Bombs Damage Four Negro Churches, Homes of Two Ministers in Bus Integration Dispute

By AL KUETTNER
United Press Staff Correspondent

Violence erupted in the bus integration movement with a mass bombing that damaged four Negro churches and the homes of two ministers early today in Montgomery, Ala.

Police said members of two families escaped injury from the blasts that hit fronts of the dwellings while they slept. Other explosions damaged churches that had been used for integration rallies.

The targets of the predawn bombings included two Negro ministers who were attending a south-wide conference of Negroes in Atlanta to map plans for spreading their bus integration movement to other cities.

They were the Revs. Ralph D. Abernathy, Baptist minister whose home and church were badly damaged, and the Rev. Hugh J. Fields, also a Baptist minister whose church was wrecked by another blast.

The bombings followed a sixth gun blast which hit a Montgomery bus late Wednesday in the sixth such shooting since the transit line was integrated by court order last month.

Movement Spreads

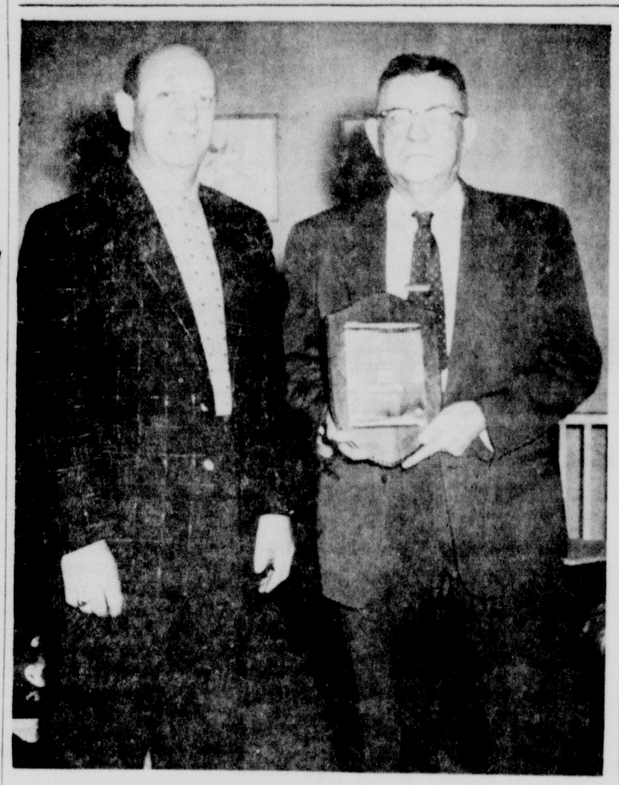

Fields' Bell Street Baptist church was damaged throughout by a blast just before 5 a. m. CST while hordes of police were already investigating the earlier bombings in another Negro area.

The flareup of the first wholesale bombing in the region-wide segregation dispute was timed with a spread of the movement to Atlanta, where Negroes were staging their most ambitious plan to integrate buses.

A group of Atlanta members planned to defy local bus segregation laws by riding in front sections of trolleys for a second time later today. The test was being held during a two-day conference of Negro leaders who hope to spread their movement to other Southern cities.

Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia alerted the National Guard to put down any "riots, insurrection or breaches of the peace" that might be stirred up by "outside agitators" in Atlanta.

Hodge Scandal is First Major Issue Faced by General Assembly

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — The 2½ million dollar Hodge scandal today was the first major issue faced by the 70th General Assembly.

A Senate resolution introduced at the opening session of the Legislature Wednesday called for creation of a 10-member legislative committee to investigate circumstances surrounding passage of a bill in the 1955 session which permitted Union Electric Co., St. Louis, to dissolve its Illinois subsidiary and escape Illinois franchise taxes.

This was the bill in connection with which the utility paid a $35,000 lobbying fee to J. Roy Browning, a Chicago attorney and friend of Hodge. All the money apparently wound up in Hodge's secret accounts.

Only the day before the Legislature opened Hodge was called before a federal grand jury here which is investigating possible violations of the Public Utility Holding Act in connection with the lobbying fee.

Calls For Lobbying Reports

The Senate resolution was introduced by Sens. William J. Lynch (D-Chicago) and W. Russell Arrington (R-Evanston) who in 1955 sponsored the Union Electric bill.

Lynch also introduced a bill calling for registration of lobbyists and requiring that any person or group which spent more than $500 in lobbying activities file periodic reports with the secretary of state.

The bill carried a penalty provision of a $5,000 fine.

In another echo of the Hodge scandal, bills introduced in the Senate called for a $369,259 deficiency appropriation for the state auditor's office which was left in the red by Hodge's looting. Another bill provided for transfer of about $290,000 from various accounts of the state auditor to other accounts where there are shortages.

House leaders delayed introduction of their first money problem, a 30 million dollar deficiency appropriation for the Public Aid Commission because members were opposed to the idea of passing on such a large amount of money without a full committee hearing.

Passage Now Delayed

Republican House Majority Leader John W. Lewis Jr., Marshall, said the deficiency bills would not be introduced until Monday and could not be passed before Feb. 4. Original plans had called for their introduction Wednesday and passage by both

Delivers State of Union Message At Joint Session

President Warns Of Continuing Threat Of Inflation

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — President Eisenhower called today for a new measure of American unity and effort to continue prosperity at home and meet the continuing threat of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" abroad.

In his annual State of the Union message, Mr. Eisenhower asked not only for the cooperation of Congress but "a personal effort of dedication," by every American to help establish "a secure world order." He said that in such a world the United States can continue to prosper and resources "now dissipated on the armaments of war" can be released by all nations to help raise the world standard of living.

Mr. Eisenhower delivered his 3,500-word message in person before a joint session of the House and Senate.

On the domestic front, Mr. Eisenhower found America enjoying an "unprecedented peak" of prosperity. But he said there is a continuing threat of inflation which can materially damage the current economy.

He called on business to avoid "unnecessary price increases" at a time when demand in many areas "presses hard on short supplies."

He also said that wage increases and other labor benefits should be "reasonably related" to productivity. He said that pay boosts that outrun prices and productivity contribute to inflation.

To maintain stable economic growth, Mr. Eisenhower recommended that Congress undertake "a broad national inquiry" into the entire American financial system.

In the troubled international field, the President said the existence of "a strongly armed imperialistic dictatorship" — obviously Russia and her satellites—threatened the peace of the world and, consequently, the security of the United States.

He repeated his recommendation for an "open skies" agreement among nations for mutual inspection of armaments by "unarmed aerial sentinels." And he again recommended that the United Nations persist toward the goal of reduced armaments, pledging this country's continued efforts in this direction.

The chief executive delayed until his Jan. 16 budget message the bulk of his detailed legislative recommendations. Today, however, he did include these specific requests:

1. A school construction bill which should be given "high priority."

2. A four-point civil rights program which he recommended last year, but which did not pass Congress.

3. Prompt action on legislation to "regularize" the status of Hungarian refugees admitted to this country as parolees. He also said he shortly would send Congress a special message asking for changes in the immigration laws.

4. An appreciable increase in appropriations for the U. S. information agency to strengthen the voice of freedom against Communist propaganda.

5. Congressional authorization of full U. S. participation in the international atomic energy agency.

Mr. Eisenhower said that, thru future messages from him or department heads, the administration will submit special recommendations for legislation involving a broad range of subjects. These will include federal financial affairs, defense, the administration of justice, agriculture, "urgently needed" increases in postal rates, domestic and foreign commerce, natural resources, labor, health, atomic energy, public works and labor-management relations.

Near Blizzard Hits Northern Illinois; Issue Cold Warnings

By United Press

A near blizzard lashed northern Illinois with up to 12 inches of snow today, slowing traffic on snow-slicked roads and causing numerous traffic wrecks.

Several schools were closed in the Chicago suburbs due to the treacherous road conditions.

The storm swirled across the northern two-thirds of the state, hitting with greatest fury in the extreme North.

The State Highway Division reported highways in the northern two-thirds of the state were generally covered with packed snow.

Wind gusts up to 45 miles per hour accompanying the storm caused heavy drifting in the extreme northwestern section of Illinois, and some highways in that area were reduced to one-way traffic.

Rain Glazes Roads

The snow tapered off to flurries in central sections, with less than a half inch reported at Springfield. However, a freezing rain Wednesday night glazed highways with ice before the snow hit.

An Arctic air mass followed on the heels of the storm and weathermen issued cold wave warnings for extreme southern Illinois.

Forecasters said highs today will range from 15 in the north to the upper 20s downstate, and the readings will plunge to 10 below zero in the north tonight and from zero to 10 above in the south.

The storm began during the height of the rush hour Wednesday night, snarling traffic on the Outer Drive in Chicago and hampering commuter transportation.

Hundreds of motorists were stalled for four hours or more on the Outer Drive and many of them abandoned their cars when they became stalled in drifts.

Snow continued in the East St. Louis area, but elsewhere it stopped about dawn and skies cleared.

Downstate, the Du Quoin and Effingham state police districts reported highways were free of snow and only a light snow powdered the ground at Effingham.

The surge of cold air sent temperatures tumbling from a high of 69 at Cairo Wednesday to a low of 27 early today.

.55 Inch Precipitation

Precipitation here the past two days has totalled .55 inch, Harrison Kibler reported this morning. The rain measured .35 inch up to 7 a. m. yesterday and there was an additional .20 inch between 7 a. m. yesterday and 7 a. m. today.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. —Matt. 5:3.

A father that we knew refused a great legacy for his children. He feared that it would close the door to spiritual growth and the battle of life that makes men strong.

Bigger Than Ever

Editorial — BY BRUCE BIOSSAT

The economists thought 1955 was going to be a great year and it was. They weren't so sure about 1956, but it turned out to be even greater in many—though not all—ways.

Never were so many Americans employed as in 1956—a total of 65 million. Unemployment was an unalarming 2,463,000 at the November count. The nation's working force produced $412 billion worth of goods and services, almost $10 billion more than the economic prophets expected.

A figure like that, standing alone or even compared with earlier American totals, doesn't easily convey what it should. Time magazine, in its year-end business review, tried to put the scale of U. S. business operations in an understandable perspective.

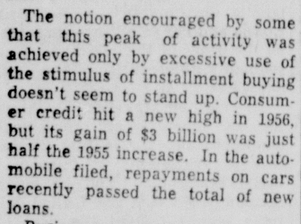

For example, it notes that America today has barely six and a half per cent of the world's population, yet produces 60 per cent of the world's goods. This is an incredible statistic. More than most figures, it explains the power and leadership the United States enjoys.

To cast this astonishing fact in smaller terms, the magazine points out that in 1956 the nation spent more on new homes alone than the value of the whole Spanish economy, more on highways than the Norwegian economy is worth, more on new cars than is represented by the combined economies of Australia, Denmark and Mexico.

The notion encouraged by some that this peak of activity was achieved only by excessive use of the stimulus of installment buying doesn't seem to stand up. Consumer credit hit a new high in 1956, but its gain of $3 billion was just half the 1955 increase. In the automobile filed, repayments on cars recently passed the total of new loans.

Businessmen evidently do not think all this will end soon. Their betting on the future took the form of $35 billion spent in 1956 on new factories and plant facilities. Such money would not be laid out if enterprisers didn't believe the products of these new plants would be bought by Americans and others in the years ahead.

Speaking specifically of 1957, the forecasters look for even more prosperous times, at least through the first six months. America is still on an arching curve. The news is good. If we keep our heads, maintain our balance, it could be good for a long time to come.

There have been a great many fires in different parts of the country in the last few months. It has been suggested that some of these conflagrations may have been set by arsonists or by enemies of some kind. Many of the fires have resulted from accidental causes.

Whatever the cause of these fires, the destruction of property, the loss of life and the human suffering which have resulted have mounted high. We deplore these losses not only because of the destruction, but also because some of them could have been averted.

Everyone must be alert to the things which may allow fires to start. We must also be alert to any force which might be destructive to human endeavor and spiritual stability. We must do our share to stop destruction of any kind.

DREW PEARSON Says: Nixon Makes Old Guard GOP Drop Dead; He Deserts Traditional GOP-Southern Alliance; Advisory Democrats Rebuff Texas Leadership.

WASHINGTON.—A lot of backstage huddles plus careful planning preceded Vice President Nixon's ruling that part of Senate Rule 22 regarding filibusters is unconstitutional.

Richard Nixon has long been the darling of the Taft conservative wing of the Grand Old Party. It was this group which stuck by him last summer against Harold Stassen, demanded that he be No. 2 on the ticket. So its surprise was understandable.

When the last attempt to change filibustering came up, it was Bob Taft who killed any change. Taft stuck by the long-standing alliance between northern Republicans and southern Democrats whereby the Republicans stood with the south on anti-Negro issues and the south stood with Republicans on anti-labor issues.

The new Nixon, however, once a Taft disciple, did just the opposite.

The new Nixon not only junked the old GOP-southern alliance, but did so despite an advance call from three Republican senators—Knowland (Calif.), Saltonstall (Mass.), and Bridges (N. H.), urging him to stay in line.

What old guard Republicans didn't entirely know was that Nixon also was called on by the northern liberals. Some of them even came to his home at night. One committee of six came to his office—Ives (N. Y.), Smith (N. J.), Potter (Mich.), Republicans; and Douglas (Ill.), Humphrey (Minn.), and Andersron (N. Mex.), Democrats.

"We're not trying to put you on the spot," said Anderson, who had been chosen to lead the fight. "But we think this is bad legislation."

"What are you really getting at?" Nixon asked.

"We think it's outrageous for one Senate by a majority vote to be able to bind all future Senates not to change a rule except by a two thirds vote," replied Anderson. "We think it might be unconstitutional."

NIXON WAS PREPARED

Nixon agreed. It was obvious he had been studying the matter. Finally Nixon said:

"I'll be ready to rule when I come back to the chair from lunch at about 2 p. m."

At 2 p. m., however, Nixon beckoned to Senator Anderson on the Senate floor to come up to the rostrum. The debate was in progress. The public had no idea what was happening.

"Don't let him make his inquiry," he whispered, referring to Humphrey, "until I get my papers. I want to go into this very carefully."

Anderson hurried over to Humphrey whispered: "Hold your horses. Don't move until he notifies us."

The debate droned on. Finally Anderson saw a clerk bring some papers to the vice president. He edged over to the rostrum and whispered: "Are you ready?"

Nixon nodded. Anderson gave the signal to Humphrey, and the senator from Minnesota asked the question which gave Nixon a chance to advise that part of Rule 22 on filibustering was unconstitutional.

Probable result of the ruling: (1) win a huge block of Negro votes for Nixon in his ambition for 1960; (2) ensure passage of a civil rights bill whether the filibustering is changed or not.

Many papers buried it, but Joe McCarthy took a terrific verbal belt at new Supreme Court Justice William J. Brennan shortly after Joe got out of the hospital. It should help endear Brennan to his fellow justices. They like him, don't like Joe. . . . New Sen. Joe Clark of Philadelphia was the first to pick up the idea of introducing a resolution to outlaw Rule 22 on filibustering on the basis of Nixon's ruling that it was unconstitutional. Nixon showed Clark five drafts of his statement, all written in longhand. The fifth was read before the Senate . . . Judge D. S. Saund, the Hindu congressman elected from California, held old home week as dignitaries entered the House of Representatives to hear Ike's Near East message. He found a seat on the center aisle, shook hands with Chief Justice Warren and various senators as they walked down the aisle . . . Somebody quipped, "A thorn between two roses," when they saw Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona seated between Justice Tom Clark and new Sen. Frank Church of Idaho at the special joint session.

TEXAS RETREAT

The two Texas leaders, Johnson and Rayburn, who thought they had knocked the Democratic Advisory committee out of existence by refusing to sit on it, found themselves with their tails between their legs at breakfast last week with the same Advisory committee they had spurned.

Everyone was very polite, but if there had been any pie at the breakfast they would have eaten it—humbly. They had outfoxed themselves. If they had remained on the committee they would have controlled 11 out of 20 votes—a majority. Instead, they were on the outside, looking in, with no control.

Harry Truman was polite, but quite firm. He made it clear that the Advisory committee wasn't going to disband just because the two Texas leaders boycotted it.

"We are not going to do anything that anyone has to worry about," he said in the closed-door conference. "But this committee is going to continue."

At another session, however, the committee proceeded to take an indirect slap at Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson. It called for the abolition of Senate Rule 22 on protecting the filibuster, though Johnson had just championed it. Mrs. Roosevelt, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, and Gov. "Soapy" Williams of Michigan were the most emphatic that this stand be taken.

"We have a platform," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "with a specific provision for majority rule. I think it is important that we call attention to that platform during the Senate discussion of Rule 22."

This was done.

ROMAN ROCK 'N' ROLL—It's rock 'n' roll, man, infernal stuff in the Eternal City. Wilbert Bradley swings his partner, as they introduce the fad to Rome, Italy. They started their dance in a night club, but got so carried away that they continued their dancing for two miles through the streets. But Roman police, not digging this cool jazz, stopped the impromptu session, and banned all rock 'n' roll activities in public places.

PENSIVE—The news camera caught this striking candid shot of House Speaker Sam Rayburn during a press conference in Washington. The 75-year-old veteran has served as Speaker longer than any man in history.

No Surprises in Dior Creations

No minimizing the bosm. No tampering with the waistline. No raising or lowering the hemline. Just clotes to show off the feminine figure.

The controversial Dior, who next month celebrates the 10th anniversary of the opening of his Paris custom salon, this week showed his New York spring collection, a wholesale line, to 200 visiting fashion editors. If Dior has any surprises to spring this spring, apparently he is saving them for his Paris show, Jan. 31.

He called the silhouette of his New York group the "lyre." Near as this observer could make out, after seeing some 100 costumes from suits to ball gowns, the designer took the curves of the lyre and transplanted them to fabric.

Shoulders were curved, the body rounded, and necklines bared in the dressier clothes. The "demi-longeur" or near ankle length, which Dior sprang on the fashion world in Paris last fall was repeated in only one cocktail frock.

Marie McDonald Case Is Another Chapter in Hollywood Real-Life Dramas

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Hollywood Writer

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — The case of actress Marie McDonald adds another chapter to the shocking real-life Hollywood dramas that pale the stories the stars enact on the screen.

The beautiful Marie's story that she was forced at gunpoint to endure 24 hours of terror is the biggest "crime" in filmtown since the shooting of agent Jennings Lang by producer Walter Wanger in 1951.

Hollywood shook with scandal when Wanger fired two slugs into the groin of the man he thought was stealing the love of his wife, Joan Bennett. Wanger and Miss Bennett reconciled following his release from prison. Lang's wife died of a heart attack and he later married singer Monica Lewis.

Robert Mitchum's arrest on charges of smoking marijuana in 1948 was another "scandal" that made headlines. The suicide of Carole Landis earlier that year was one of Hollywood's' biggest tragedies. Her body was discovered by Rex Harrison.

The Todd Case

Hollywood's first big "crime" was the 1921 death of showgirl Virginia Rappe at a wild party in San Francisco. The late Fatty Arbuckle, a top comedian, was tried for the crime and acquitted.

The 1922 William Desmond Taylor murder was—until Miss McDonald's present case — Hollywood's biggest unsolved mystery. The Paramount producer-director was shot in his lavish bachelor home after bidding goodnight to the late star, Mabel Normand. Another glamorous beauty questioned in the case was Mary Miles Minter, whose love letters to Taylor were found in his home.

The Thelma Todd case in 1935 was equally as baffling. The blonde comedienne's bruised body was found in her monoxide-filled car in the beach home garage of her cafe business partner, Roland West. Was it murder, accident or suicide? Stars testified at a county grand jury investigation but authorities never did establish definite proof as the cause of the death.

Some Other Tragedies

The shooting of Director Thomas Ince in the '20s has never been solved.

Other tragedies were the death of Barbara Lamar from narcotics in 1924 and the suicide of Lupe Velez in 1944.

Paternity suits involving Errol Flynn, Charles Chaplin and Wallace Beery were other Hollywood headlines.

The shooting of pianist Myrl Alderman by Martin Snyder over the love of singer Ruth Etting was a Hollywood scandal that was made into a movie last year.

Acheson Opposes Eisenhower's Mid-East Doctrine as Hazardous

WASHINGTON (UP) — Democratic former Secretary of State Dean Acheson opposed President Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine today as "far too hazardous a course even to be hinted at."

Acheson told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that Mr. Eisenhower's request for standby authority to use U. S. military force against any Communist aggression in the Middle East "sounds perilously like another approach into the brink."

Acheson, who was former President Truman's secretary of state, said Mr. Eisenhower's request was "not only unnecessary but undesirable" and the authority sought was "shadowy and vague."

He said his analysis of the President's request and the explanation given by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles convinced him the effect would be to grant the President power to use atomic warfare if he felt it was necessary.

"This is reckless talk," Acheson said. "Vague phrases which suggest that we might respond to any but the most vital danger by nuclear retaliation carry a vicious risk, whether believed or not believed, and may cause a fatal miscalculation.

"There can be no bluff here."

Acheson recommended that Congress refuse Mr. Eisenhower's request and approve instead a policy declaration supporting the President in his opposition to Soviet intervention.

Former President Truman offered earlier to submit in writing his views on the resolution to the committee.

The committee's Democratic members rejected a proposed substitute for the "Eisenhower Doctrine" advanced by a "very prominent" Democrat.

They did so after Dulles denounced the substitute.

Prices moved higher with the railroads making the best percentage gain of the major groups.

Macmillan Named To Succeed Eden

The right wingers considered Macmillan a compromise candidate who could muster moderate support as well.

In the same upstairs room of the palace where Eden laid down his office Wednesday night, Macmillan carried out the ancient ceremony of kissing the Queen's hands in homage this afternoon.

Just 21 months ago, in that same second floor drawing room, Sir Winston Churchill himself had taken leave of office.

In Common With Churchill

Eden was Churchill's' protege, but his term as prime minister was a short one. In fact, only Bonar Law, who served for nine months after World War I, served a shorter period as prime minister in this century

Macmillan has a lot in common with Churchill

Like Churchill, his mother is American — the former Helen Belles of Spencer, Ind.

Like Churchill, he took office after a chapter of failure and defeat—Churchill succeeding the appeasement of Neville Chamberlain and Macmillan succeeding the failure of Suez.

Like Churchill, Macmillan is an individualist. Churchill's weakness was cigars. Macmillan's is dandy dress. He wears turn-of-the-century waistcoats and a walrus mustache, and he combs his thick, graying hair over his ears.

Won't Call Election

Churchill was the last elder statesman consulted by the Queen this morning before she sent the royal sumomns to Macmillan.

When Macmillan left Buckingham Palace after a 20-minute audience with the Queen, and returned to Downing Street reporters asked him if he would call a general election.

"No," he said with typical bluntness, "and when there is one we will win it."

The term of the present House of Commons has three years to run. As long as Macmillan can continue to control it, he can serve as prime minister.

Two Indicted For Tax Evasion

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Two Madison county men were indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury on charges of income tax evasion.

The two men, John Connor, 70, Venice, and Robert S. Young, 58, Collinsville, were placed under $10,000 bond and face arraignment on Jan. 15 before Federal Judge Charles G. Briggle.

The two-count indictment against Connor alleged that he payed only $5,169 of the $51,489 he should have paid for 1950 and 1951.

U. S. Atty. John B. Stoddart Jr. who said that Connor has been a professional gambler for the past 25 years, said that additional assessments would have been made against Connor, but the statute of limitation had run out.

The six-count indictment against Young charged four counts of willful attempt to evade federal income tax in the amount of $14,763 from 1950-1953.

Baby Killed, Four In Family Hurt

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UP) — A 6-weeks-old baby was killed and four members of his family injured in an automobile accident on Ill. 3 near Centerville.

The child, James Cooley Jr., died several hours after being taken to St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, where his mother remained in serious condition. Also hospitalized with serious injuries is another child of the Cooleys, 2-year-old Nancy. The father and a third child, Joann, 3-years-old, were treated and released.

Police said the family, who live at 146 Kinder Drive in Maplewood, Ill., were involved in the accident Wednesday night when their car struck a parked truck on the highway.

Liner Tips Over In Drydock

HOBOKEN, N. J. (UP) — Norway's second largest ocean liner, the 17,500-ton Oslofjord, tipped over in its drydock today and crashed against an adjoining drydock holding another ship.

Eight crewmen were injured. Two were hospitalized. Another 200 crewmen were evacuated after being trapped for more than an hour.

The Oslofjord immediately developed a 60-degree list, police said.

"I can assure you it will definitely sink if it hits the water," Police Lt. John Flihse told United Press. He said the vessel's seacocks were open.

State Boosts Amount Of Money to Be Recovered from Hodge

CHICAGO (UP)—The state today boosted the amount of money it seeks to recover from Orville E. Hodge by $240,000.

Grenville Beardsley, first assistant attorney general, said the state's suit asking for $622,642 from Hodge will be amended to ask for $862,642.

Beardsley said that as a result of audits, the state now can prove the former auditor stole at least $862,642.

Hodge's thefts have been placed at $2,500,000. He repaid $528,880 from a trust fund after the scandal broke. Beardsley said the other $1,100,000 consists of "questionable disbursements" which the state can't prove to be thefts.

Airman Learns to Keep Mouth Closed During Wind Storm

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP) — Airman Paul G. Deering, Niagara, N. Y., has learned not to open his mouth during a wind storm.

Deering, an instructor at Amarillo Air Base, did so Wednesday to answer a student's question and a strong gust blew a partial denture out of his mouth.

Suit Accusing Carpentier of Amassing 'Flower Fund' Dismissed

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — A suit which accused Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier of amassing a $300,000 "flower fund" by assessments against employes' salaries was thrown out Wednesday by Circuit Judge De Witt S. Crow.

Crow ruled that the suit "lacked equity" and granted a motion by attorney A. D. Van Meter Jr., that the court action be dismissed.

Crow then gave permission for two of the original six petitioners to withdraw from the suit and gave the remaining four 20 days in which to file a suit at law, seeking to recover some $250 allegedly paid into the fund.

One of those permitted to withdraw was Leroy Cohnen, Springfield, who said he had paid $75 into the fund last spring when he was a campaign aide to Nicholas Bohling, who was at that time running against Carpentier in the Republican primary.

Marie Miller, Virden, also permitted to withdraw, said she put $90 into the fund.

The suit originally asked that the money left in the fund be distributed among employees in proportion to what they had contributed.

Crow ruled that there was no basis for establishing a trust, which was also requested in the original suit, and directed the remaining petitioners to take further action only on their own behalf.

Carpentier never denied that the fund existed, but said it was based entirely on voluntary contributions.

The fund was discontinued immediately after the April primary.

To Check New Lead In Slaying of Marine

LOUISVILLE, Ill. (UP) — Sheriff Harry Sproat said today he may travel to Indiana to check a possible lead in the slaying of a Marine near Flora, Ill., two weeks ago.

Authorities are investigating the death of 21-year-old Larry M. Kirk, Winslow, Ind., who was found shot in the back. Sproat termed the new lead "just a stab in the dark."

Youngest Son of Bing Crosby Passes Physical for Draft

Pays Fine, Promises To Pay for Phone Call

Leonard Hutchinson of Harrisburg was fined $34 yesterday by Police Magistrate Vern Joyner Jr. on a charge of illegal transportation of liquor and Hutchinson promised to pay for a telephone bill he ran up at the Triangle cafe, Chief of Police Ross Lane reported today.

Night police got a call which said Hutchinson had run up about $6 on a call at the Triangle and had walked off without paying. Police found him in east Harrisburg and took a partially filled bottle of gin from him, Lane said.

houses, without committee hearings, by next Wednesday.

Both houses of the Legislature held only perfunctory sessions today and will return next Monday for inauguration ceremonies for Gov. William G. Stratton and other elected state officials.

Another Senate bill introduced would provide scholarships for high school students to attend northern, eastern, and western state colleges, Illinois State Normal University, and Southern Illinois University.

The bill was sponsored by 17 Republicans and Democrats and would provide such scholarships to each public, private and parochial high school in the state.

Schools with 1,000 or more students would be eligible for five scholarships a year; 500 to 1,000 enrollment four scholarships; and fewer than 500 enrollment three scholarships.

Another bill would prohibit commitment of narcotics offenders to the State Penal Farm at Vandaila and have them sent to prison instead.

Penal Farm officials and Vandalia area residents have complained of overcrowding at the Penal Farm and have blamed it on commitment of large numbers of narcotics offenders from Chicago.

Allow 18-year-olds to vote in Illinois.

U. S. Welcomes Eden's Decision

WASHINGTON (UP) — United States officials today privately welcomed Sir Anthony Eden's decision to quit as Britain's prime minister as a step toward restoring U. S.-British relations to their pre-Suez level.

Publicly, there were warm expressions from the White House and the State Department for Eden and concern over his health. But by his resignation, officials said privately, Eden had cleared the way for a strengthening of the Western alliance and a revival of American-British cooperation.

President Eisenhower, in a White House statement, did not express the usual "regret" over Eden's resignation. But the President referred to Eden as "an old and good friend of mine." He said he had developed a "great respect and admiration" for Eden as a "dedicated leader in the cause of freedom." The President also said he is sending Eden a personal message.

Worst Storm of Winter Howls Across Midwest; Blamed for 6 Traffic Deaths

By United Press

The worst storm of the winter howled across the Midwest and slammed into the Northeast today, piling up to a foot of snow in some sections and snarling traffic on drift-choked roads.

At least six traffic deaths were blamed on the storm, including one in the Southwest where wind gusts of more than 70 miles per hour ripped up blinding dust storms.

The storm piled an average of 4 to 10 inches of snow in the Midwest, and in some localities reached a depth of 12 inches. Heavy snow warnings were issued for portions of western Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Rhode Island as the storm surged eastward.

Snow packed highways reduced to a crawl in Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana. Air travel was disrupted at several midwestern cities, but Midway Airport in Chicago remained open throughout the storm.

South of the widespread snow belt, a hazardous sheet of freezing rain iced highways in southern Kansas, northern Oklahoma and west-central Illinois.

The storm also dumped two feet of new snow in the higher reaches of the Colorado Rockies and several mountain highways were blocked by snowslides. Travel across the Continental Divide was reported hazardous.

Early morning temperatures included New York, 35, Miami 60, Chicago 17, Grantsburg, Wis., 18 below, Denver 11, Los Angeles 56 and Seattle, 37.

New Shawnee Forest Ranger

L. M. Frost has been assigned as District Ranger at Jonesboro, Ill., replacing James W. Jay who was recently transferred to Michigan, Shawnee Forest Supervisor L. P. Neff reported today.

The position of District Ranger is not new to "Lee" Frost, Neff stated, as he listed the new Jonesboro Ranger's training and experience. Ranger Frost attended the University of Idaho for three years, transferred to the University of Montana for one year where he graduated with a B. S. degree in Forestry, with the class of 1929.

He received his first full time appointment with the Forest Service on the Colorado Forest in June 1930. After one year he took a leave of absence to obtain his Master's degree from Harvard University. Early temporary employment with the Forest Service during his college years 1925-1929 gave Frost experience as lookout, smokechaser and project work.

During the period 1931 to 1945, Mr. Frost's assignment was range survey work as Assistant Ranger and Ranger in the National Forests of Colorado and Wyoming except for 15 months in Massachusetts on the New England Forest Emergency projects (salvage of hurricane damaged timber in 1939-40). His next move was to Houston district on the Mark Twain Forest of Missouri, where he remained until his present transfer.

Mr. Frost, his wife, Violet and two sons, David age 17 and Jimmy age 12 will arrive on Jan. 14 and make their home at the Ranger's residence in Jonesboro.

A DOCTOR for BLUE JAY COVE

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Copyright 1956 by Elizabeth Seifert Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: Cass Ward has had her first quarrel with her mother-in-law, known as "Aunt Cordy." The older woman, who operates a boarding house for outpatients near the hospital at Blue Jay Cove, does not like the way Cass dresses. And Aunt Cordy "snoops" around the living quarters of the couple.

IX

She performed the errand, mouthing over dialogues by means of which she could inform her mother-in-law that good manners alone would prohibit her going in and out of Cass's apartment at will.

With this project in mind, Cass changed to a dress which she knew Alex liked, and had a cold drink waiting for him when he came in from the hospital. He enjoyed his drink, then dawdled about showering and changing.

They went downstairs and across to the big house, Cass's full brown skirt bobbing over her frilly petticoat, her earrings and bracelet matching the little blue flowers with which the dress was sprigged. Several of the guests complimented her on her prettiness, and she flushed with pleasure.

Supper was especially good — sliced lamb and mint jelly, a crisp salad. "I don't know how you manage even to plan the meals!" she told her mother-in-law, warmly sincere.

Aunt Cordy was pleased. "I've had to learn."

That evening Alex dealt with another new patient he had. He wished, he said, that he could put the young woman into a semi-hypnotic state, to get the truth from her. He knew that she was withholding facts. She was responding, slowly, to the routine of baths and physiotherapy, but she was a puzzle.

"And you're fascinated."

"Well, yes, Cass, I am."

"Sue says she's beautiful."

"Has Sue talked about her?"

"I think it's the same one; she pointed out the blue houseboat where she lives."

"Why does she want to live in a houseboat?" demanded Aunt Cordy.

"I don't think it's a matter of want, Mother. She can live there more cheaply than anywhere else."

"I see." Aunt Cordy approved of women who found ways to "manage." She'd had to do that herself, and was proud of the achievement.

Alex went on to talk a bit about a patient who'd read her own history card, and had misinterpreted the initials WTD as meaning "wants to die."

"What do they mean?" asked Cass.

"They're routine, and mean weak, tired, dizzy. But I had to do some of my best psycho-stunts on that old girl. But I think they worked."

Aunt Cordy did seem so very interested in Alex's patient-relationships. Maybe no one had ever suggested to her that he should be training in psychiatry. Cass turned to her. "If you feel that way," she suggested, "don't you think it's a mistake for Alex to be doing surgery here instead of specializing in psychiatry?"

"Why should he give up work he does so well?" asked his mother blandly.

"I thought," she said quietly, "that you'd agree he should be doing what he wants to do."

"Belay . . ." growled Alex, rising to respond to a message that there was a phone call for him.

"I wish," said Aunt Cordy to her daughter-in-law, "you'd stop stirring Alex up."

"The idea originated with him," said Cass, slowly. Alex would still want her to belay, but she felt it was a chance to set his mother straight. "He wants to specialize."

"But what about Francy?"

"Well—what about her?"

Aunt Cordy reached for the crochet work which was never far away. There were a half-dozen people seated before the TV set, but the room was so large that she and Aunt Cordy sat apart from them, and in semi-privacy.

"Well, let's see," said Aunt Cordy, throwing back her head, crinkling her eyes shut in an effort to remember. "I think we'd better start about 20 years ago. I was a young woman, then—30—and pretty. Plump, but not fat. I was tall, of course." She was a tall woman, Cass realized. "We lived in Cincinnati because my husband's work was there. Alex was nine, Marcy just a baby. And my husband developed — or became afflicted with—epilepsy. He had — fits."

"It must have been a terrible experience."

"It was. His income stopped, and he was a very sick man. I couldn't nurse him—I didn't know what to do except put him in a—a sanitarium. And he died there after several years.

"I had to get a job, and I found one without too much trouble. It was at a resort, a watering place, it was called. I was hostess at a hotel. I boarded the children out—I saw them every day, of course, and spent my Sundays with them. Then, that next winter, I was in a car accident. I wasn't seriously hurt, but it left me too nervous to do that sort of work."

"And you had your husband on your mind."

Aunt Cordy blinked. "Yes. Yes, there was that. Well, anyway, I had to make a change. With the hotel experience I'd had, made me decide I could run a boarding house for people who took the waters. I'd grown up here in the Cove, and I thought if I'd come back here . . . I wrote to Dr. Knapp and asked him about the possibilities. You see, I'd been girlhood chums with Francy's sister, Lovie."

U. S. Protests Deportation of Jews by Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States has protested at least four times to Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser against Egypt's deportation of Jews, officials disclosed today.

The latest protest was made to Nasser last week in Cario by U. S. Ambassador Raymond Hare, who has been arguing against anti-Jewish activities in Egypt for more than six weeks.

The State Department believes that more than 4,000 Jews already have "left" Egypt since the attack on Egypt by Israeli, British and French forces. Most of these were deported. But some left Egypt on their own initiative, believing that they would have to do so sooner or later anyway.

Farm Bureau Urges Tighter Soil Bank Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Farm Bureau Federation said today farmers should be required to "earn" the money the government is paying them for not producing surplus crops.

It recommended a tightening of ground rules for the soil bank under which farmers now may receive payments totaling up to $1,200,000,000 a year for withholding land from production.

John C. Lynn, legislative director for the federation, told the House Agriculture Committee:

1. Farmers "under no circumstances" should be permitted to harvest or graze land placed in the soil bank. The Agriculture Department last year permitted drought-hit farmers in 700 counties in 12 states to graze livestock on unplanted soil bank land. It has announced it won't permit it this year.

2. Farmers should be denied government price supports unless they put some of their land in the soil bank. The amount should be the percentage of their acreage on which they grow price-supported crops.

3. Farmers putting land into the 450-million-dollar "conservation reserve," one part of the soil bank, should be barred from reducing acreage of other unused land that "normally is idle." This restriction already applies to the 750-million-dollar "acreage reserve" phase of the soil bank program.

The committee is considering possible changes in the soil bank machinery. Lynn urged it to "resist pressures to convert the program into free crop insurance and disaster relief."

Club Aids Pals of Boy Trying to Buy Him Artificial Leg

NEW YORK (AP) — It took six neighborhood pals of Buddy Stoddard nearly seven weeks to earn $57 shining shoes as part of the $400 they hoped to earn to get Buddy an artificial leg.

It took the Sunnyside Kiwanis Club in Queens about seven minutes to vote the full $400 Tuesday so Buddy could have his artificial leg as soon as it's fitted.

Buddy, whose full name is Blaine Stoddard Jr., is 13 and lost his left leg through an amputation for cancer. His medical bills of about $2,500 had stretched the family budget so far that six pals set out to earn the $400 artificial leg he needed to enter high school next fall.

Their shoe shining efforts—at 5 cents a crack—kept them busy after school and on weekends. Their industry did not go unheeded.

Things like that get around in a neighborhood. The Kiwanis Club felt their donation was not only a benefit to Buddy, but a reward for his diligent pals.

Progress During Year Reported by Church of Nazarene

The First Nazarene Church in Harrisburg under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. Charles Scott, made much progress during the year of 1956 by completing several major projects.

A mortgage of $2,200 was paid, eight members were added to the church, the church was redecorated on the inside, new hymnals were purchased and a new church was organized in Galatia under the direction of the local church.

The Church of the Nazarene, an international Protestant denomination, recorded substantial gains in every area of its work during 1956. The annual statistical report by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, Kansas City, Mo., General Church secretary, showed that new churches and Sunday schools were established at the rate of two a week in 1956.

The church marks its start at Pilot Point, Texas, in 1908, and plans are being completed for its golden anniversary observance in 1958.

SAFETY IS THEME FOR PTA PROGRAM DURING JANUARY

Many parents and friends of Carrier Mills began their New Year right by showing a growing interest in their school in attending PTA Thursday, Jan. 3, at the grade school assembly room.

The group joined together and, with Elizabeth Miller at the piano, sang "Home on the Range" and "Polly-wooly Doodle all the Day."

"Safety" is the theme for this month's work. "We would like to make our homes, school, and town a safer place for our families. The best way we know to do this is to impress upon our people to practice all safety measures at all times," it was pointed out. To emphasize this idea a film, "Fatal Seconds," was shown. Also films "How Not to Conduct a Meeting" and a cartoon for the children were enjoyed.

From the kindergarten Susie Hearn and Myra Jo Kidd did a twirling routine. Connie Beth Malone sang "Susie Snowflake," accompanied at the piano by her sister, Candace.

The membership drive came to a close with Alice Holloway's second grade winning with a 44 per cent, Mrs. Knickerbocker's sixth grade second with 37 per cent and Mr. Rann's third with 36 per cent. Mrs. Kihlmire's fifth grade won the attendance banner for a repeat performance. The fifth grades were hostesses and their room mothers did the serving.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and Cokes were served to the following: Kathleen Bynum, Wilda Durfee, Norma Pyle, Dana Overstreet, Geraldine Milburn, two guests, Janet Keys and Mary Shelton and the hostess, Edna Dunn.

The next meeting will be at the home of Wilda Durfee Jan. 18.

The refugees were the first to be returned to Austria since thousands began arriving by plane during the Christmas season.

Archie Dees Tops Big Ten Scorers

CHICAGO (UP) — Illinois and Minnesota each placed three men in the top 10 scorers in Big Ten basketball this week, but center Archie Dees of Indiana set the pace with a 27 point per game average for two games.

Minnesota players in the top 10 were Jedd Dommeyer with 27 points, George Kline with 26, and Dave Tucker with 21, all for one game, while the Illini in the list were George Bon Salle with 20, and Don Ohl and Hiles Stout, each with 17. Illinois has played two games, but Stout was in only one contest.

Stout has the best field goal shooting percentage of the top 40 scorers, .700, while Dees hit .909 on free throws for the best mark among the top ten.

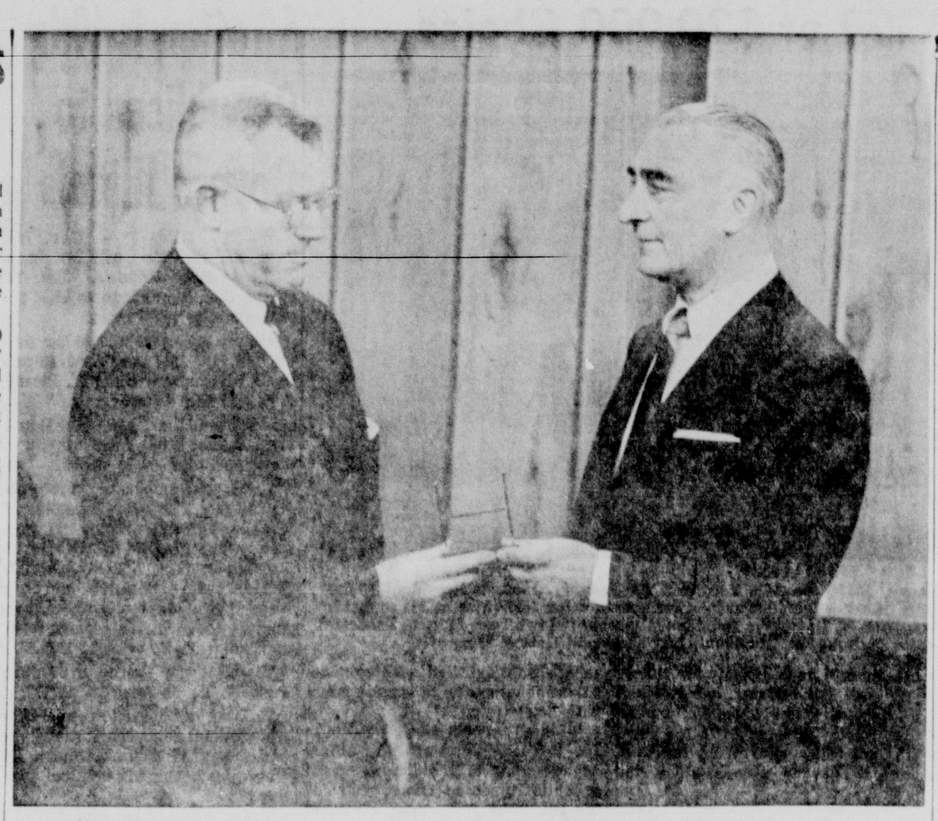

Ohio State, tied with Indiana for first place with two wins in as many starts, was the best shooting team with a .445 percentage from the field while Indiana's .760 mark was the best in free throws.

Hornung Signs Three Year Pact With Green Bay

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP) —Paul Hornung, twice an All-America quarterback at Notre Dame, was "tickled pink" today about his three year contract with the Green Bay Packers, even though he turned down a "real fabulous offer" from Canada.

Hornung signed the Packer agreement, for an estimated $15,000 per year, in a conference with club President R. W. Bogda. The pact provides for him to play three seasons with the Packers, even though the continuity might be interruped by military service.

Hornung, who was 21 last month, is not in any reserve training program and hence will be eligible for a draft call any time after his graduation from Notre Dame in June. Normally, however, a student can remain out of service for about one year.

Jackie Robinson Rejects Best Offer of Career; To Ask Voluntary Retirement

NEW YORK (UP) — Jackie Robinson rejected the highest offer of his career today and prepared to write his formal farewell to baseball.

The 38-year-old Negro star, ending his career amid the same swirl of controversy with which it began, revealed that he is turning down more than $50,000 and "other considerations" to play this year with the New York Giants. He said his formal request for voluntary retirement would be sent to National League President Warren Giles "no later than next Tuesday."

"I only regret this offer wasn't made to me a couple of years ago," said Robinson by way of thanking the Giants for their generous offer. "I would have loved to play for people like Horace Stoneham and Chub Feeney."

It was Feeney, the Giants' vice president, who made the final bid to lure Jackie back "for one more year." The offer, a contract for more than $50,000 in 1957 and a subsequent job in the Giants' organization, was made Wednesday night. News of the offer leaked out and Robinson discussed it with reporters before appearing on a television program.

Robinson, whose top salary with the Brooklyn Dodgers was $42,500, said he thought "I convinced Feeney that I won't be playing," and added "I don't believe I could do the Giants any good."

"He told me to think it over and give him the benefit of the doubt if there was the slightest chance I'd play," Robinson said. "I told him there was very, very little chance. I didn't give him a definite answer, but in my own mind I know how I feel."

The Giants cancelled a press conference they intended to call for this morning in the hope of announcing Robinson's return to the game but Feeney did hold out a faint hope that Jackie would change his mind.

In addition to Robinson's drawing power the Giants needed him desperately as a first base replacement for the drafted Willie White and also believed he would prove a spark for Willie Mays, their brilliant young center fielder whose play tailed off considerably in 1956.

CURVY KIM — Kim Novak, who plays the name role in "The Jeanne Eagels Story," can't disguise her modern curves even when she dons a 1920 bathing suit. Broyles Succeeds Coach Don Faurot

ST. LOUIS (UP)—The names are changed but the system will be much the same at the University of Missouri this fall, where young Frank Broyles of Georgia Tech will succeed Don Faurot as head coach.

Faurot, who will continue as Tiger athletic director, said he hoped some of Broyles' success at Georgia Tech with the split-T which Faurot invented, would rub off at Missouri.

Broyles was signed to a three-year contract Wednesday. His salary was not announced. He has been Coach Bobby Dodd's backfield coach for the Engineers.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Wintertime brings hazardous driving conditions to motorists. A driver of a motor vehicle should always be on the alert when behind a steering wheel, but this is particularly true during the winter months.

Longer hours of darkness during each 24 hour period makes driving a more tedious operation for the driver. The evening rush hours for city motorists are especially affected by this development. The normal speed at which traffic flows during the spring and summer months must be lowered accordingly with dusk and darkness hampering the vision of motorists.

Also, drivers in residential sections must be on the alert for children who continue playing their games in spite of the darkness moving in on them. Every driver should remember that children easily forget that they should not run carelessly out into the street after a football or during a game of tag. Youth with its love for fun and frolic cannot be expected to remember all the lessons taught at home and at school about keeping highway-safety first.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

"Their generation came out of college in mid-depression, watched the rise of the Hitlers and Tojos, fought a great world war on the fronts of land, sea, air and home, emerged from the war in a world threatened again by imperial Communism, to help create an era of unheard-of plenty, responsibilities and new challenges."

Enos Slaughter Signs $20,000 Yankee Contract

By United Press

Enos (Country) Slaughter, baseball's old warhorse who insists on kicking up his heels like a young colt for the world champion New York Yankees, is all set to play his 17th season in the big leagues at the age of 41.

The Yankees announced today that the hustling outfielder has agreed to his 1957 contract estimated to call for a $20,000 salary.

Slaughter, who will reach his 41st birthday on April 27, just after the season opens, sparkled for the Yankees in the 1956 season. His two-run homer proved the winning blow in the third game of the World Series, turning the tide in favor of the Yankees for the first time when Brooklyn seemed on the way to the title.

Milady's Inaugural Outfit: $200 or $20,000 Choice

Editor's Note: As society editor of the Washington Daily News, "Evie" Gordon, author of the following dispatch, covers one of the nation's most glittering social fronts.

By EVELYN PEYTON GORDON
Written for NEA Service

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Whoops, dearie! This is going to take a nick from the old man's pocket! That is if you expect to do the inaugural festivities of 1957 in proper style. Take it from Mrs. Robert V. Fleming, wife of the chairman of the Inaugural Committee 1957, who has been an outstanding member of capital society for many years.

"Tot" Fleming, a slim, trim, well-dressed, well-groomed woman, started the social rounds in Washington when her father was a federal judge; has continued since as wife of the president, now chairman of the board of Riggs National Bank in Washington, one-time president of the American Bankers Association, and presently a member of the Federal Reserve's Advisory Council. Now, next to the First Lady and Mrs. Richard Nixon, Mrs. Fleming will be the most important woman taking part in the partying attendant to the second inauguration of Dwight David Eisenhower.

"I'm all ready for the festivities which start, officially Saturday, Jan. 19," said Mrs. Fleming as she fitted her cigaret into a scarlet holder exactly matching her well-lacquered fingernails and the soft velour hat which topped her slim black suit. "It's the only way to go through several days of hectic routine and still enjoy everything."

Mrs. Fleming has several suggestions for the thousands who will trek to Washington next week for their first glimpse of official entertainment: Bring plenty of white gloves, long and short, suede or fabric, according to your purse. Don't try to be sensational with big, elaborate hats; they're out of place in the huge crowds and definitely uncomfortable. But do have several smart, small ones in bright colors, for luncheon or cocktail parties. Since Washington is a "suit or thin-wool-dress city" from morning until late afternoon, don't wear low-cut cocktail frocks during the day; and don't don a hat for black-tie occasions such as the inaugural concert Sunday evening.

Have some kind of light-weight fur—stole, scarf, etc., for big receptions where the crowds will be so thick that checking coats is impossible. Be sure to remember that Jan. 21 can be very cold and Inaugural Parades last two hours and more, so have a warm coat, fur or otherwise. And finally, don't wear a short dance frock to the Inaugural Balls; they are incorrect when the men are in white-tie.

How much does a woman's regalia for the three-day festivity cost? Says Mrs. Fleming, "That is a matter of purely personal pocketbook. Some of my outfits are not new for the occasion. A ball gown can be very expensive, ar very inexpensive; cocktail dresses come as low as $12.95, as high as several hundred dollars."

For the opening-gun of inaugural week—the afternoon reception for official women at the Pan American Union at which Mrs. Howard Coffin, chairman of Official Hostesses, will entertain—Mrs. Fleming has chosen a simple black afternoon frock, slim, sleeved; a small dressy black hat, and a mink jacket—not a new one. That evening the Festival at Uline Arena will draw thousands of visitors and is "informal"—cocktail dress or dinner-dress, for the men dark suits or dinner jackets. Mrs. Fleming chooses a blue lace, short, dinner-dress and no hat, "because it is more comfortable."

For church Sunday morning — Mrs. Fleming will wear a black suit, small hat, will change later to a cocktail dress of black velvet, a small, dressy hat, for the reception at the Statler Hotel in honor of the visiting governors and other distinguished visitors.

Still later, another hurried change to evening dress—not too elaborate nor decollete—for a dinner and concert.

And on THE day, Monday, Jan. 21, there'll be little time for changes until the evening, so a warm suit, coat, trim hat, comfortable shoes, just in case taxis are hard to find when going from the Capitol to parade stands along the route.

For the Inaugural Balls — and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming must take in all four of them—Mrs. Fleming selected a handsome, uncluttered gown of beautifully re-embroidered black lace, fashioned with slim, sheath lines, girdled with crimson silk which spreads to a wide panel with brief train.

All-in-all about seven outfits to see the ladies through the offical engagements of the inauguration; or cut it down to three by wearing the same suit, same afternoon frock each day; cocktail frock without hat for lesser evenings; the ball gown. Whether $200 or $20,000 to outfit milady is up to you, but it's not cheap anyhow!

Stratton is 19th Republican to Govern Illinois

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton will be inaugurated next Monday, Jan. 14, as the 19th Republican to hold the governorship of Illinois.

Almost 100 years ago to the day, on Jan. 12, 1857, the first Republican governor, William H. Bissell, took the oath of office.

Since that time, only five Democrats have been governor for a combined total of 20 years.

The five Democrats were John P. Altgeld, 1893-97; Edward J. Dunne, 1913-17; Henry Horner, who was elected to two terms starting in 1933; Lt. Gov. John H. Stelle, who became governor when Horner died with about three months to go in his second term; and Adlai E. Stevenson, 1949-53.

Bissell was born in Painted Post, N. Y., on April 25, 1811.

He was graduated from Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia and moved to Monroe County, Ill., where he began his medical practice.

From 1840-42, he was a representative to the state General Assembly and from 1845-53 he represented the 1st Illinois District in Congress.

Challenged to Duel

Bissell then studied law and was admitted to the bar in Belleville.

He held the rank of colonel in the 2nd Illinois Volunteer Infantry during the Mexican War and served with distinction at Buena Vista.

Once, while a member of Congress, Bissell was challenged to a duel by Jefferson Davis, who would one day be president of the then unborn confederacy. The duel was prevented by President Zachary Taylor, Davis' father-in-law.

In May 1856, Bissell was nominated for the Illinois governorship by a coalition of Whigs and anti-Nebraska Democrats. This nominating convention was the first Republican conventon to be held in Illinois.

Bissell was by then an invalid due to a spinal injury.

Illinois prospered during Bissell's adminstration, but state issues were overshadowed by politics on a national level and the series of debates between Stephen A. Douglas and Abraham Lincoln.

Fraud Uncovered

While Bissell was governor the canal scrip fraud was uncovered.

The swindle consisted of the fraudulent finding, in state bonds, of a large amount of state scrip which had been issued for temporary purposes during the construction of the Illinois-Michigan canal.

A legislative investigation found the illegally funded money to total $223,182, the bulk of which was traced to Joel A. Matteson, who preceded Bissell in office.

The state failed in an attempt to gain an indictment against Matteson.

Bissell died in office March 18, 1860, and was succeeded by Lt. Gov. John Wood.

Bissell is bured in Oak Ridge Cemetery in Springfield.

Wayman Presley Seeks Help in Raising 42,000 Hogs for Bald Knob Cross Fund

By SAMUEL HANCOCK
United Press Staff Correspondent

MARION, Ill. (UP)—Wayman Presley needs help to raise and sell 42,000 pigs.

Presley, 60-year-old mail carrier from Maxanda, Ill., wants to erect the world's largest cross atop Bald Knob Mountain in the Illinois Ozarks.

He has been accepting donations since 1951. But so far, he has netted only $50,000 of the estimated $1,000,000 cost.

"At this rate, it would take about 15 years to get enough money, and I would like to see it built sooner as a shrine where people can worship and honor God," Presley said.

So Presley hit on his pig-raising scheme.

He got the idea in April, 1955, when he appeared on a network television show with Mrs. Myrta Clutts, a Cobden, Ill., widow. Mrs. Clutts pledged $100 from the sale of pigs toward Presley's fund. Her old sow had a litter of 21 pigs.

Many Farmers Help

Presley later located and bought 19 of the 21 pigs, and last summer put his plan into operation.

He took each pig to a different farmer, who pledged to raise it as a donation. When the gilts grow up and have litters, the young will be distributed to other farmers. Sows will produce at a rate of two litters a year during the 3 1-2 year program.

Presley said the proceeds from the sales of barrows will be used to pay the costs of the pig program.

Presley found the farmers cooperative.

"We have 107 sows in production right now," he said. "Thirty-eight of them are in the three small towns of Ava, Cutler and Campbell Hill alone."

Presley would erect his cross atop 1,034-foot Bald Knob Mountain, the highest spot in Illinois. The 300-foot cross would be built of steel, glass and porcelain.

Searchlights will shine on the cross, and from its top and arms.

"It will not be showy, flashy or ornate," Presley said. "Its simple beauty and what it stands for will be its power."

The interior will include at least 40 meditation rooms, a chapel and an observation point above. Presley plans a special room with individual plaques naming the cooperating pig farmers.

Presley isn't sure how many states will be needed to carry out his plan to raise 42,000 hogs and send them to market to get the million dollars. But he figures the number will be fewer than originally planned, due to the reception his program has received.

"One farmer said it might be hard for him to give a cash donation, but that it wouldn't be any trouble for him to raise another hog," he said.
